5 POLICY STATEMENTS

- KMD strives to be a credible and environmentally responsible partner to our customers.
- As a company KMD will be responsible with regards to our impact on the climate and environment.
- The direct impact of KMD on the climate and the environment is primarily through our production and more than 2.600 employees. We work systemically to optimize how we run our business and how we develop new it-services and other products in an environmentally responsible manner.
- Although, IT through the use of energy, minerals, and metals impact the planet significantly, IT can also help reduce the global impact on the climate and the environment. KMD's products can reduce traffic, use of paper and create an overview of energy consumption and help optimize our clients' business. Thus, we also see our products and services as one of our greatest assets in the quest to help our customers to a more sustainable footprint.
- We are aware of KMD's consumption and impact through continuous monitoring. In areas that are considered important to the environment as well as KMD's business priorities are made. These are exemplified in our climate- and environmental strategy which updated every two years.
- KMD is compliant with all relevant legislation and other commitments such as the UN Global Compact principles.
